

Trimo Corporate Profile

Our Company

Since its formation in 1961, Trimo has established itself as one of Europe's leading companies offering complete solutions in the area of steel construction. From its headquarters in Slovenia, the company's high reputation for innovation, quality and customer support, has spread widely throughout Europe and beyond and continues to impress as new markets are explored and new opportunities seized.

Our Solutions

Trimo prides itself on meeting or exceeding the expectation of all its customers, which is why the company has built a business proposition around providing complete solutions rather than just products. We will take your idea and work together through to design and production and on to assembly and service. Our technical consulting service is on-hand at all project stages as we endeavour to provide only the best and most appropriate solution tailor-made for you.

Our Products

Meeting the varied requirements of today's construction industry is a challenge in itself as only those companies that can innovate and move rapidly survive. Over the years Trimo's portfolio of products has grown and developed in tune with market requirements to present one of the most modern and comprehensive ranges of construction solutions anywhere.

Pre-fabricated steel buildings

Steel is the ultimate construction material, and its applications infinite. Trimo's pre-fabricated steel solutions are perfect for offices, commercial buildings, sports and leisure facilities, warehousing and industrial applications. Whatever is required, Trimo has a solution that is innovative, distinctive and modern.

Steel Structures

The limitless boundaries of architectural freedom are enabled and realised. For primary - load-bearing frames and stabilisation elements - Trimo offers final frames, intermediate frames, wind-protection / stabilisation cover, floor structure, brackets for crane rails, and crane rails. For secondary structures - roof and façade substructures - Trimo offers hot or cold rolled profiles.

Facades

Fireproof, invisible fix, smooth or profiled, Trimo has a solution that brings individuality to creation and form. Either vertical or horizontal systems are available with additional elements such as corners, flashings and final profiles available to complete the construction. Add the wide range of decorative elements and the construction can be truly unique. Look for the names:

- Trimoterm STANDARD
- Trimoterm INVISIO - panels with invisible fixing
- Qbiss by trimo - new modular facade system

Roofs

A construction is often considered complete when the roof is added. Whatever nature can throw, Trimo's roofing solutions perform. And, with the environment to consider, our insulated solution keeps those within warm and reduces the demands on heating. Note the names:

- Trimoterm insulated roofs
- Trimoval uninsulated roofs

Containers

When fast construction is required Trimo's container solutions excel. From military applications to retail and domestic, the flexibility of the Trimo solution does not compromise on the essential such as fire protection, sound insulation or thermal insulation.

Sound-insulating systems

Trimo sound-insulating systems - the perfect solution for the reduction of environmental noise. A solution crafted for all environments that is available in different sizes and materials and is fully adjustable, durable and effective.

Our Service

Reputations are fragile and are often won and lost with service, or specifically, the ability to continually meet or exceed customer requirements. For this reason the heart of Trimo beats to the sound of innovation, where the ever more demanding needs of customers is addressed through research and development. Fostering strong relationships ensures that the customer and Trimo are engaged in dialogue throughout the entire specification process from concept through to completion. "No task impossible" will find us always going that extra mile to ensure complete and total satisfaction and our on-going technical and support services are industry leading.

Our Markets

Trimo is truly a global organisation, supplying construction and pre-fabricated steel solutions to over 50 countries. The company, recognising the need to address local construction requirements locally, has a growing network of companies, representative offices and agents providing sales, technical and marketing support.

Our People

At Trimo, we value each and every employee and foster a culture of continuous development and improvement. A motivated employee takes pride in their work, which contributes to innovation, quality and ultimately happy customers. We invest heavily to ensure a knowledgeable and skilled workforce, which ultimately means the customer receives satisfaction.

Our investment

Success today does not necessarily guarantee success tomorrow - continuous investment in new technology, markets, customers, processes, R&D and training, however, does. For this simple reason Trimo has ploughed literally millions of Euros into new production facilities, state-of-the art technology and staff improvement and training.

Our world, our environment

Trimo is a socially considerate company committed to fostering good relations with the general public as well as the wider environment. The importance of this business element is demonstrated by its inclusion in the company's corporate strategy. Trimo also believes that this socially responsible approach should be reflected in its business ethics and, therefore, endeavours to establish partnerships that are built on honesty, integrity and sincere communications, as well as a mutual appreciation and understanding of the environment and the social implications of trading.
